The contesting teams were the famous eleven of the University of Virginia and the plucky lads of Sewanes. Tenn., (the University of the South). To say that the "cranks" were enthusiastic would hardly express it—they were simply carried away and whooped and yelled until the dusty autumn air became almost alive with sound. Scores of pretty girls adornéd the bleacheries, and without exactly knowing why, they lent their applause to the loud hurrahs which followed every brilliant play. PAVORITES AND WINNERS. fought as bravely as it they were cheered by thousands.

The Sewamee boys are a handsome set of fellows. They are all splendidly proportioned, but lacking in the weight requisite to conquer a team like the "Varsities," and this in a large manner accounted for their defeat. They play with wonderful snap and vivacity and "pull together" like clockwork. Few elevens of their avoirdupois could vanquish them. The uniform of the strangers consisted of the usual white suit (begrimed with dirt, of course) and purplish-blue stockings.

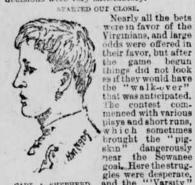

The "Varsities," when they stepped upon the field, looked has a set of Bengal tigers. Their suits are of a dirt-colored brown, while their shirts and stockings are striped in orange and blue. Nearly Nearly every man is powerfully built, and the many pounds of fiesh they have is all good, hard muscle. They are trained to perfection, and their "push" and energy does not take long to manifest itself.

Finally the ball into the hands of the "Varsities," and with a rush they sent Harper through centre for five yards, while Jones gained another five. By vigorous work the Virginians steadily pushed forward with the ball until it was within three yards of the goal. This was the climax of the inning and excitement ran high. The half was nearly over and the enforts of the Sewanees to keep their opponents from scoring were almost superhuman, but they struggled in vain.

THE FIRST SCORE MADE, THE FIRST SCORE MADE.

The "cranks" whooped vociferously, and fairly split their lungs when the "Varsities" with a mad rush pushed slowly the line and Captain Thomas touched the leather down one foot between the lines, thus scoring the finest touch-down and making 4 points. Stone kicked goal successfully and thus the Virginias ran up their score to 6. their score to 6. When the inning ended neither side had changed this record.

UP-HILL AND HARD WORK.

The second half commenced with Sewanee in possession of the ball, and with the down-hill goal as the haven for the 'Varsities. The Tennesseeans soon found that they had "up-hill" work before them in more senses than one, for the Virginia "kickers" quickly got the best of the struggle, and showed their supremacy. It was not many minutes before Stone made a tonch-down and kicked to goal. This made the score 12 to 0, and in a few minutes Harper captured another touch-down and Stone another goal kick. Up the score ran to 18. Shortly afterwards the pair repeated the "act," making the score 24 to 0. It had now gotten outle dark, but the "'Varsities" managed to pierce the gloom sufficiently to give Jones a chance to make still another touch-down, which Stone supplemented with his never-failing goal kick. And so the "'Varsities'" record got up to 30, while the Sewanee "goose-egg" likewise became larger and larger in proportion. The game ended before any further points were made. The running of Harper and Jones in this half was superb, and the former, on one occasion, made a seventy-five-yard dash, which was a gem in its way, though Jones was not by any means inferior in some of his feats.

Those who earned Laurella.

The laurel-earners of the Varsities were Bowden. Thomas, Catchings, Jones, and Harper. The latter, who was with the Trinity team last year, is well known in Richmond and plays magnificently.

The defeated eleven, despite their mistortune, all deserve praise. Cleveland, who, by the way, is a cousin of our next President, acquitted himself splendidly, as did also Wilder, Zorn, and T. V. Wilson.

The "'Varsities" will meet the Trinity (R. C.) eleven in this city on November 24th. The game between the former eleven and the Washington and Lees, which was to have taken place in Lynchburg on November 15th, has been declared off, as the faculty of the latter institution retused to allow their students to play. This action was due to troubles which occurred between the base-ball nines of the two universities several months ago.

The all-round work of the young physicians was very good, while the collegiates held up their reputation as ball-players. Redwood acquitted himself admirably in the box: Flannigan played an excellent first, and Brook, the surgeon who presided at second, crowned himself with glory. Davis and Cosby pounded the ball with telling effect for the "Meds." and showed themselves to be as skilful with the bat as with the formidable lance. At the end of the sixth inning the score stood 15 to 15, and the umpire was requested by the collegiates to call the game on account of darkness, which he did. The dectors, however, insisted on playing another inning. This the college boys refused to do. The game was accordingly given to the young physicians, though the score was a tie.

Fitteen hundred students from the various colleges of Philadelphia paraded the City of Brotherly Love last night and shouted their college yells to their nearts' content. The pageant was proposed in defiance of the Supernuendent of Police, who a few days ago issued orders that the yelling on the streets must cease. It was turned into a triumphal march, however, when the Superintendent yesterday "backed water" and rescinded his orders. A body of mounted officers beaded the procession and bands of music were interspersed between the various contingents. A heavy force of police was distributed along the route and they were unmercifully guyed by the students.

Experiments have recently been made in Germany with a new kind of armor, which is claimed to be far superior to any kind heretofore made. It is said that the resisting qualities of this armor are so great that a thin layer of it will prevent the passage of the new small-calibre rite bullet. It has even been suggested that the new composition might be utilized in making armor for soldiers, though it is not believed this will be done, as men clad in mail would never be able to make the marches required in modern warfare. Breast-plates and head-pieces might, however, be made of it if it possesses all the qualifications its inventor claims for it.

Prince Bismarck will not reappear in the Reichatag on its assembly in November. If the success of the coalition against the government were absolutely secure, with himself master of the situation, it is said he would not hesitate to again take his seat, but the person who latest tried to interview him could not even extort a side-light on the Prince's attitude toward the impending struggle. His criticisms were chiefly personalities. The present Ministers, he said, were so insignificant and the covering to the shield they present is so transparent that the Emperor himself always shines through them. It is dangerous to the future of the monarchic idea, he added, for a ruler, even with the best intentions, to appear so frequently in the political field without a decent ministerial covering. Prince Bismarck is enjoying good health, though he is of acid temper.

The programme of the German Independent Socialist party has finally been drafted, and it indicates that party's final secession from the main body of Social Democrats. The programme declares that workmen ought to rejec State socialism in every form. They should rather aim to enfeeble it and to completely abolish he sizate. They should try to capture the means of production and abolish capitalistic society intrough strikes, boycotts, refusal to enter into legal obligations, etc. They should oppose all the leading institutes of modern society, such as the Church, State schools, the army, bureancracy, and parliamentarianism, and reconstruct society on the basis of perfact equality without distinction as to sex. The manifesto is the embodiment of sheer anarchism. The trouble is that the party has a growing number of adherents in Germany.

W. S. Archer, Esq.:

My Dear Sir.—At your request I say that in replying to Mr. J. Haskins Hobson, at Goochland Courthouse on Sectember court-day, I made substantially the same statement that I made at Midlothian on October 20th concerning his connection with the sale of coapons for the payment of taxes and heenses. He sat right in front of me at the first-named place and I offered to give him an oppertunity to make a denial if he could do so. He remained silent. He sat by my side when we returned on the Richmond and Alleghany railroad to lifehmond and during our interview made no complaint of injustice in the statement. His silence was accepted by all who heard the discussion botween him and myself at Goochland Courthouse as an admission of the accuracy of the statement. I have read the report in the Times of what occurred at Midlothian and feel it to be my duty to say that I did not hear the expression that "the authr was a Har." Such a remark in reference to your-self would not have passed unnoticed if I had heard it. In replying to his excited appeals to the passions and prejudices of his hearers I remarked that attempts to array one class against another would always be condemned by intelligent and good men. In this connection I said he had not always been on the side of the people, and stated that a few years ago he was engaged in seiling coupons for the payment of licenses and taxos. I cannot undertake to give the exact words used by myself, but the above is the substance of what I said. I spoke briefly and hurriedly at the close of the day, but am positive, na above said, that the statement at Midlothian was substantially the same as that made at Goochland Courthouse, to which Mr. Hobson offered no denial.

Yours truly, George D. Wisz.

W. S. Archer, Esq.:

Dear Sir.—In answer to your inquiry as to what connection Mr. J. Haskins Hobson had with me in my contest with the State over her public debt I have this to say.

At a very early period of my fight Mr. Hobson wrote me that he was a bondholder and in full sympathy with me, and desired to aid me in every way in his power, and from that time forward he did give me all the aid and assistance that he could. He visited me repeatedly at my office to confer with me as to the best means for pressing the cause along, and wrote to me often and constantly in regard to it. I relied on him for information concerning what was most for the interest of the bondholders in his region of country, and for what was best to promote the use of coupons there, and found him a most earnest and valuable assistant.

Yours very truly, WILLIAM L. ROYALL.

Willer & Rhoads. DRY GOODS,

Broad, between Fifth and Sixth streets,

We announce a special sale of the right kind of Dress Goods at the right prices—beginning to-morrow.
Seldom, it ever, have we been enabled to offer, at the very height of the season, such stupendous values of complete and select lines of imported fabrics. Some recent heavy purchases on a strictly cash basis enables us to cut under regular prices from one end of the line to the other.

Follow us closely now as we name these prices and remember that it is im-portant that you be on hand early to get the best:

ridescent Serges, 1234c.
